BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1952

VOL. 51 - NO. 8

Observations... Results Of Thursday's Storm . . .

By UDELL

The L. & N. Railroad Company is planning a hike in commuters rates. . . Since many of our residents in Bay St. Louis and nearby communities are engaged in businesses in New Orleans, a meeting of all commuters, local business men and any other interested parties has been called for Saturday, February 23, at the Courthouse at 10:00 a.m. to discuss a plan of procedure for objecting to the proposed increase. . . This meeting should be a must on Saturday morning's schedule for men in this locality. A little interest and cooperation in the matter may mean a big difference.

Bay St. Louis is receiving national publicity along with the rest of the Gulf Coast as one of the charm spots of the nation. . . From an article sent to us from the HOLY CITY POST by Lt. Jimmy McDonald, we quote the following paragraph: "Rapidly gaining nationwide fame are the Holly Bluff Gardens near Bay Saint Louis where natural beauty together with thousands of domestic and imported rare plants combine to make this garden on the Jourdan River one of the coast's best attractions." This is publicity that Bay St. Louis can use at all times.

It is also the type that we could get if our citizens would just take a little more interest in developing smaller Holly Bluffs. With a clean town and attractive gardens, it would be a pleasure for travelers to stop off in our little city instead of continuing on to a more attractive spot. If still isn't too late for local citizens and officials to get started on a clean-up campaign and have Bay St. Louis spotted and attractive for outsiders who will visit here during the Garden Club Pilgrimages next month. . . Think of what it would mean to have these tourists return to their homes and tell friends of the beauty of this little old town situated on the Bay of St. Louis. . . This would be the best free publicity we could ever get. . . Take a little civic pride in your surroundings and see what a difference it will make.

While on the subject of cleanup, a good start was made on the pile on St. Agnes street by the Railroad. . . This is still one of the most unsightly spots in Bay St. Louis. . . Not only is it unsightly to passengers on the trains passing through and to the local residents, but it is a dangerous passage.

One night this week, some thoughtless person or persons entered St. Augustine's Seminary and pulled up 15 or 16 young carnella bushes. . . How anyone could be so mean as to steal something that would probably have no value to them after the act was performed because the bushes will probably die through carelessness is a mystery to us. . . anyone with any imagination and these plants, is asked to contact the Seminary or the Echo. . .

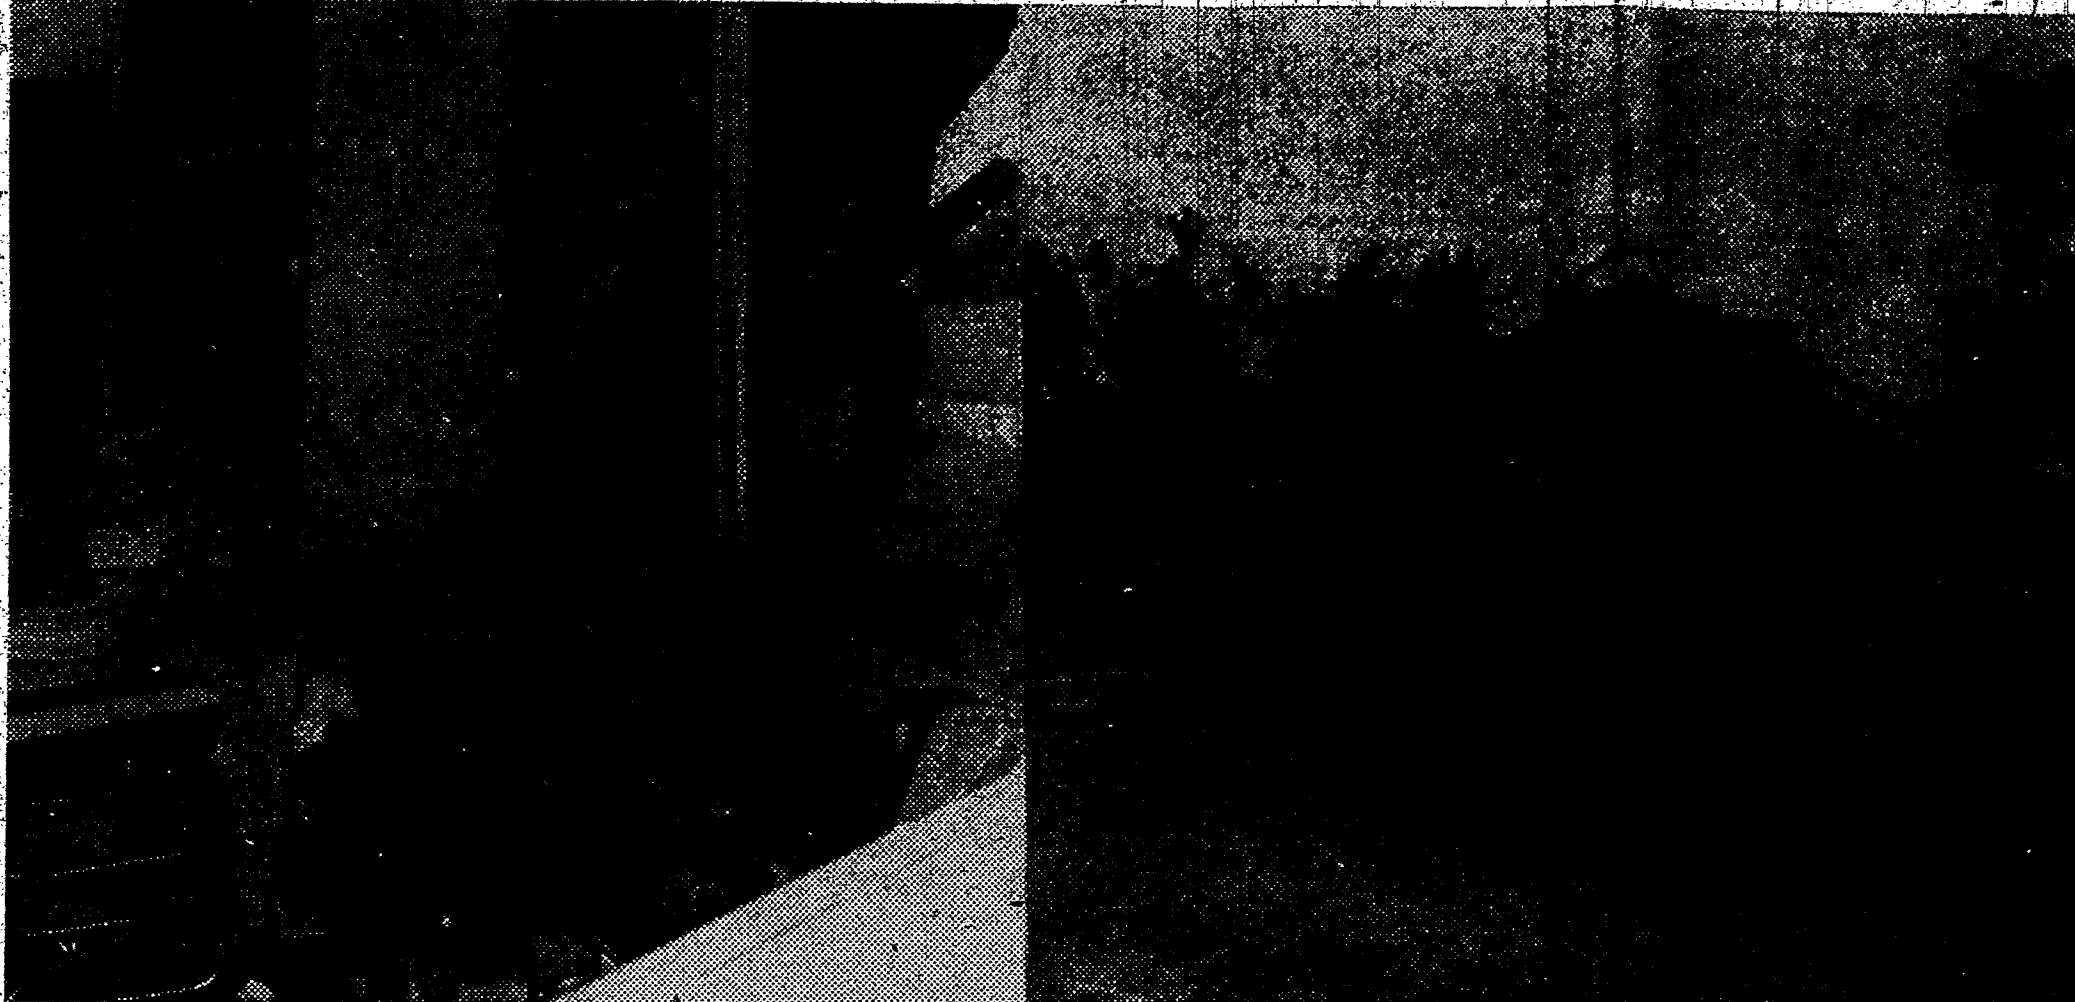

Names are being linked together this week as the hour draws near for the annual St. Joseph Academy Carnival Ball. . . The rules are still a deep mystery. . . Tonight at the Memorial Hall, and not before, they will be made public. . . This year's ball, for all reports, promises to be a beautiful affair.

Make your plans now to stay in Bay St. Louis Carnival Day. . . Our local P.T.A. is putting forth a lot of effort to make their fourth annual Mardi Gras parade and dance better than it has ever been. . . This year business houses, asked to decorate and participate in the festivities. . . The parade will start at 2:00 p.m. from Bay High school with a number of floats carrying out the "Nature" theme.

In conjunction with the Red Cross Blood Bank scheduled for March 17 in Hancock County at the Youth Center, the A. & C. Theatre will have a booth in the show Sunday and Monday, February 24 and 25, for Red Cross workers to receive pledges for blood donors. . . On the bill for the night will be the movie, "Fixed Bayonets," the first Korean War picture to be shown here. . . When you see this movie and see the great things that can be done with blood, you will surely sign a pledge for March 17. . . Most of the blood donated in Hancock County is available for its citizens when needed. . . Sign your pledge Sunday or Monday for a worthy cause. . .

Receives Appointment

Sgt. 1/c A. G. Favre, Jr., who is stationed at Fort McPherson, Georgia, has received an appointment as Warrant Officer (1. g) in the U. S. Army. . . Warrant Officer and Mrs. Favre, and children arrived home Thursday morning to spend several weeks visiting their parents.

Father O'Leary Addresses Rotary

"It is the peace that kills," Rev. Father O'Leary, S. J. of Loyola University, told Rotarians at their weekly meeting, Wednesday, at Hotel Reed. The speaker, who was the guest of James Norrman, program chairman, said that the tension under which we live today is the cause of many difficulties in man's system and way of life. According to Father O'Leary the strain under which many men of today live is the price that kills.

The answer to this tension is relaxation, the noted speaker stated. "It's a good idea for everyone to be able to relax because relaxation increases efficiency," he added. The attitude of the mind has a lot to do with being able to relax, and it is a question of the way man looks at a thing which makes the difference between relaxation and tension.

According to the educator, every generation thinks it has found the answer to all problems confronting its era, but, he stated, "the world is made up of individuals and everybody has his own problem to solve. If man were to start right at home and correct individual faults, then a lot of tension in the world could be eliminated."

"If everyone improves his own situation, then we will have a country of which we can be proud, and we will be able to refute the propaganda of communism."

Tension, as defined by the speaker, is accompanied by anxiety, all of which could be eliminated through relaxation.

"If we forget our neurosis—really an exaggerated anxiety," Father O'Leary concluded, "we will be more efficient, more relaxed, happier, have more security and will have a more efficient government. We will eliminate a lot of the national anxiety and neurosis with relaxation."

Visiting Rotarians were Dr. E. L. Irwin, New Orleans; Mr. Smith, St. Joe, Missouri; F. J. Warburton, Excelsior, Minnesota; J. E. Montague, Minnesota; Dr. J. W. Burns, Pass Christian; Guests of the Rotary were Mrs. Becky Unsworth and Mrs. Belle Holmes Robinson, New Orleans; Mrs. James Norrman; Mrs. Alden Maufrey; Mrs. Ben Hill, Miss Clara Kergosien, Mrs. P. J. Treutel, John Osoinach, Miss May Edwards and Mrs. Paul Miller.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the dinner, and an informal reception will be held after the dinner so that guests may have the opportunity to meet Mr. and Mrs. Taft.

This dinner is $3.00 per plate, and reservations must be made by Monday, February 25. Tickets may be secured from J. O. Kramer, Phone numbers 969 and 110, or Harold B. Weston, chairman of the event.

Conduct Frigidaire Cooking Classes

Mrs. Ann McGowan, Home Economist for Frigidaire, conducted a large and interesting cooking school for St. Joseph's Radio & Electric Service at the E. E. A. building, Friday afternoon. In the class were women from Pass Christian, Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor, Logtown, Waveland and Bay St. Louis, also thirty Home Economics students from St. Joseph Academy and their teacher, Sister M. Jean.

Mrs. McGowan, with the assistance of two students from Mississippi Southern College, Miss Louise King and Jean Terry, demonstrated electric cooking on a Frigidaire RO-60 Range, with a surface unit, deep-owl or Thermaizer meal and an oven-cooked meal, cooked in the new Wonder-Oven.

Deep-fat frying of fish filets, onion rings and doughnuts, in succession, in the same pot of fat, with no item of food absorbing other flavors, amazed the audience. The wonders of the new Wonder-Oven, in which food was broiled in the upper section and other food baked in the lower section of the oven at the same time, was thoroughly demonstrated by Mrs. McGowan.

At the end of this demonstration, the food which had been cooked—broiled chicken halves stuffed with rice-herb dressing and broiled peach halves, a tempting meat-leaf topped with pineapple slices, a fish and vegetable platter, a lemon pie and

EVALUATION COMPLETED AT BAY HIGH

Following seven months of faculty study and self-evaluation, the evaluation by the visiting committee for the Southern Association has been completed. There was no assignment of grade or rating given by this visiting committee; in fact, there is no such thing as high schools being assessed as AA-A or BB-B scholastically, because such classifications apply to schools for athletic competition only. A school is given one of these classifications for athletics on the basis of the enrollment in high school.

To Recondition Golf Course

Proceedings are now underway to recondition the 18 hole golf course just across the Bay in Pass Christian Isles.

Many professionals have proclaimed this to be one of the South's finest golf courses. It was designed and originally built at a tremendous cost.

Eleven citizens from Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian will act as an Executive Committee during the promotion and organization. The eleven-man committee is composed of the following: Howard LeTissier, Reed Hotel; Rev. Charles Johnson and Sam Whitfield, Bay St. Louis; Alex Cunningham, Delisle; E. A. Bang, Randall Jones, Dr. C. D. Taylor, Dr. Ed Gamard, W. W. Carter, George Morse and John Bell, Pass Christian.

Alex Cunningham, well known golf professional, has retired and now lives at Delisle, Mississippi, just a few miles from the golf course. Mr. Cunningham has constructed, from start to finish, more than 30 golf courses, and he states that the Pass Christian Isles Golf course is one of the finest and most beautiful that he has ever had the pleasure of constructing or reconditioning.

It is estimated that the annual cost to operate the golf club and golf course would be less than $3,000.00. The green fees and membership dues should exceed $16,000.00. The Golf Club should show a profit every year.

Golf has steadily increased in popularity all over the Nation and is now the number 1 sport, interesting to both young and old. The Pass Christian Isles Golf Club will be in the center of twenty-five to thirty thousand population, extending from Lakeshore to Long Beach, Mississippi.

Guilford and Biloxi have three golf courses, which are all crowded, and a fourth course is now under construction. In this part of the country, golf is a year-round sport. In the North and Middle West, it is played only seven months out of the year.

The annual cost of operation will be well taken care of by a sustaining membership of 150 Charter Members at $75.00 per year, or about $6.25 per month. To finance reconditioning the course, Debenture Bonds will be sold, bearing interest, and common stock also issued for the amount of the bonds purchased.

Those interested in applying for charter membership should contact one of the above members of the Executive Committee.

A layer cake was distributed to the holders of lucky registration numbers. The top prize of the afternoon—a Sunbeam Mix-Master was awarded to Mrs. L. C. Bristow of Logtown. S. Patrick Murphy Sr., spoke briefly to the class and awarded the prizes.

SSC Band To Get All New Quarters

New quarters for the S. S. C. Band are being prepared in the former poultry building.

The building is undergoing extensive changes including the erection of celotex walls and acoustical celotex ceilings. It is being divided into 15 rooms to include an office, rehearsal and storage room and 12 spacious practice rooms.

The rehearsal room, to be equipped with fluorescent lighting, will be larger than the present rehearsal room; its dimensions will be 42 x 18 feet. The 12 practice rooms will double the number now available in the present music hall.

Most of the work is being done by the Brothers under the direction of Brother Alvin. Final completion is set for May 1.

Church Women Plan Prayer Day

The Council of Church Women will observe the World Day of Prayer at the First Baptist Church, Friday, February 29, at 3:00 p. m. An interesting program is planned with members of the Baptist, Episcopal, Methodist, Missionary Baptist and Presbyterian churches participating.

This is the day when the whole world is in prayer from sunrise to sunset in the Atlantic Ocean, to sunset in the Tonga Island in the Pacific.

This meeting is open to all Christian women.

PROCLAMATION

Since Mardi Gras Day is a time honored institution and observed particularly in this section of our land and

Since our people are entitled to recreation and recess for at least one day from their worldly cares, and

WHEREAS it is deemed fitting at this time that we do observe Mardi Gras and take advantage of the day and its pleasure to recess, and

Since it is not only fitting and proper, but in consideration of the custom,

BE IT, THEREFORE, PROCLAIMED that I, WARREN CARVER, Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, do officially proclaim that TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1952, be a holiday in Bay Saint Louis and that it be enjoyed fully in the sense intended.

WARREN CARVER, Mayor

ATTEST: J. CYRIL GLOVER, SYLVAN J. LADNER, JR., Commissioners.

Schools holding membership in the Southern Association must meet the standards set up by this accrediting agency or be dropped from the list of accredited schools; but there is no classification of schools by letter or figure. The school is either fully accredited or dropped from the list.

The Bay St. Louis High School received a certificate of approval for the session 1951-52 prior to the coming of this visiting committee.

It was the primary purpose of this visiting committee to study the local school system and point out the things that would help to improve the school system. In doing so, the report of the committee fell into two divisions: namely, commendations and recommendations. The committee recommended the local school for those things being done well and according to the best educational standards, and made recommendations where they found things that might be improved upon. Particularly every report commended the school for the fine "pupil-teacher relationship" which is necessary in the operation of a good school.

In the matter of recommendations, there were none that could not be met with the construction of a new elementary building as is now being planned, and more revenue provided for the operation of the public school system.

One recommendation pointed out throughout the entire report was for more vocational guidance and more vocational courses to meet the needs of the vast majority of students who do not go beyond high school graduation, instead of emphasizing college preparatory courses.

The school was also commended for the work being done in counseling, career day, consultation of pupils with people in authority in various occupational and professional lines; for the program of standardizing testing and physical examination, and the setting up of permanent records on each student as to physical and scholastic achievements; for providing opportunities for development of citizenship through the different student activities; for splendid operation of the lunchroom program and the keeping of the pupil and school records accurately. It was further commended for having a well-prepared qualified staff of instructors in the line of instruction. There is no member of the high school faculty who does not hold a BA or BS degree with a major in their field of teaching, and a number of them are now working on a Master's Degree in their field.

The Bay St. Louis High School is the first of the local schools holding membership in the Southern Association to be evaluated by a visiting committee of this accrediting agency.

Out of 478 high schools in Mississippi, there are only 89 holding membership in the Southern Association, and Bay St. Louis is fortunate in having three of these schools in its midst.

Announce Points For Judging Floats

Floats in the P.T.A. sponsored Carnival parades will be judged on the following basis:

Clear Portrayal of Title, 10 points; Eye Appeal, 10 points; Originality, 10 points; Costumes, 10 points; and Use of Natural Materials, 10 points.

Bill Lanza has offered to help in the organization of the horsemen entries. His wide experience assures their being placed in the most effective spots in the line of procession.

The bicycle riders will be judged in a group at starting point of parade, to avoid the confusion that occurred in last year's judging because of some riders not staying in their appointed positions in the line of procession.

YOUR COOPERATION IN THIS WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED, the chairman stated. The judges have been selected on the basis of their established interest and experience in local art circles and with careful consideration as to neutral interest in local schools and business houses.

NOTE: All offices in the City Hall will be closed all day Friday, February 22, in observance of George Washington's birthday.

ANSWER THE CALL

Once again, the time is drawing near for all residents of Hancock County to join hands and help the American Red Cross in its annual Fund Campaign.

With the simple plea, "Answer the Call," the American Red Cross will make its annual plea for funds to carry on the local, national and international work in March.

Here surely, is a call we must all answer generously and with a full measure of warm-hearted appeal. For the call of the Red Cross is the call of suffering humanity everywhere—of human beings in need or distress across the street or across the nation. It is a call which residents of Hancock County have never failed to answer.

It is particularly appropriate, too, that the Red Cross should make this appeal, because few other organizations are so much a part of American life. The Red Cross is not an organization apart from the people of this country. It is made up of the people themselves.

When it acts, anywhere, it acts in your behalf—doing what you would do if you were at the scene of disaster or at a soldier's side in Korea or Europe. It is you who makes its great work possible by your gift of time and energy and money.

And it is for you whom it exists—no matter who you are, no matter where you live. For Red Cross service is available to all, freely and without question, on the simple human basis of need alone.

Answer the call of the Red Cross in March when you are asked to support its great humanitarian work. Answer as generously as you can.

Fraering-Weston Nuptials Held

The wedding of Miss Mary Leigh Weston and John Martin Fraering was celebrated Saturday evening, February 16, at 7:15 o'clock at the family home of the bride on South Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis, in the presence of the immediate members of the two families.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. J. R. Rollins sang Wagner's "Oh Thou, Sublime Sweet Evening Star," accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Goldman on the organ, who also played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin for the wedding procession.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth McColloch Weston, was given in marriage by her brother, John McColloch Weston. Her dress was of white nylon net and chantilly lace in bow knot design, over white satin. The tight fitting bodice of the lace and satin had a V-neck, and cap sleeves, edged with bands of the nylon net, with a row of tiny buttons down the back to the waist. Panels of the lace made panniers over the hips and extended down each side of the bouffant net skirt, which ended in a chapel train. Her finger tip veil fell from a cap of illusion, which was appliqued with the chantilly lace and outlined with pearls and rhinestones from her mother's wedding dress. She carried a spray of white gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Guy Billups Jr., of Alexandria, Louisiana, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a pale pink tulle dress with a tulle stole. She carried a spray of pink snapdragons and pink carnations and wore carnations in her hair.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Camille Martin Fraering, of New Orleans and Waveland, had his brother, William Fraering, as best man. A younger brother, Camille Martin Fraering Jr., was groomsmen.

The wedding was performed before the fireplace, which was banked with magnolia leaves, in the living room. On the mantle were antique vases filled with white tulips, lilac, snapdragons, stock and gladiolas, flanked on either side by tall seven branched candelabras. White spring flowers and white lighted tapers were arranged throughout the reception rooms.

In the dining room, the table was covered with a family heirloom cloth of white linen and fluted lace. Lighted silver candelabras tied with white satin ribbons were at either end. Tulle and white baby orchids were from Honolulu by the bride's sister, Miss Amelia Shelby Weston, surrounded the three tiered wedding cake, which centered the table.

At the reception, attended by additional guests, immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Weston was assisted in receiving by the groom's mother; Mrs. John Henry Weston, paternal grandmother of the bride; Mrs. William Sonnemann, maternal grandmother of the groom, and the bride party. Mrs. Weston wore a camellia rose chiffon dress, with Sarah Frost camellias at the waist and shoulder. Mrs. Fraering was attired in a pale rose chiffon dress. She wore a corsage of purple violets and pink roses. Mrs. John Weston's dress was of pale gray and silver lace with a gray tulle stole. Her corsage was of debutante pink camellias. Mrs. Sonnemann wore a navy and white sheer with a corsage of white gardenias.

Assisting about the rooms were Miss Dorothy Wooten of New Orleans and Mrs. Joseph Benvenuti. Mrs. Leo W. Seal Sr., and Mrs. Louis Matusus presided at the punch bowls. Mrs. Walter J. Gex cut the wedding cake.

Following the reception, the young couple left for a wedding trip to Miami, Florida. For traveling, Mrs. Fraering wore a spring suit of light gray wool and a topper of red poodle cloth, with a black velvet ascot. Her hat was a tuxedo model of gray and white straw; her accessories were of black patent leather. She wore a corsage of white gardenias.

The bride, whose late maternal grandmother was the former Miss Mary Leigh Shelby Watkins of Valley Hoome Plantation, Madison County, and Jackson, Mississippi, is a graduate of the University of Mississippi at Oxford, and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

The groom attended Tulane university where he was a member

SOME DIME STORES ARE AFFECTED BY GROCERY
CEILING

Five-and-ten-cent stores and department stores which sell affected grocery items must comply with the filing, posting, record-keeping, ceiling price marking and other provisions in OPS grocery regulations just as regular grocery stores do, according to an announcement by officials of the Jackson District Office of Price Stabilization.

All five-and-ten and department store operators who sell groceries and who have not filed forms 5 and 6 and calculated their ceilings for grocery items under Ceiling Price Regulations 15 and 16 are advised to contact the Jackson OPS for copies of the regulations.

SORGHUM SYRUP EXEMPT
All sorghum syrup has been exempted from price control at producer levels by the Office of Price Stabilization.

OPS said most sorghum syrup had already been free from price controls at producer levels because it is produced by farmers and is selling below parity.

EASTERN RAILROAD TIES
Dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for producers sales of standard dimension untreated railroad cross and switch ties in the eastern part of the nation are contained in Ceiling Price Regulation 123, which was effective February 1.

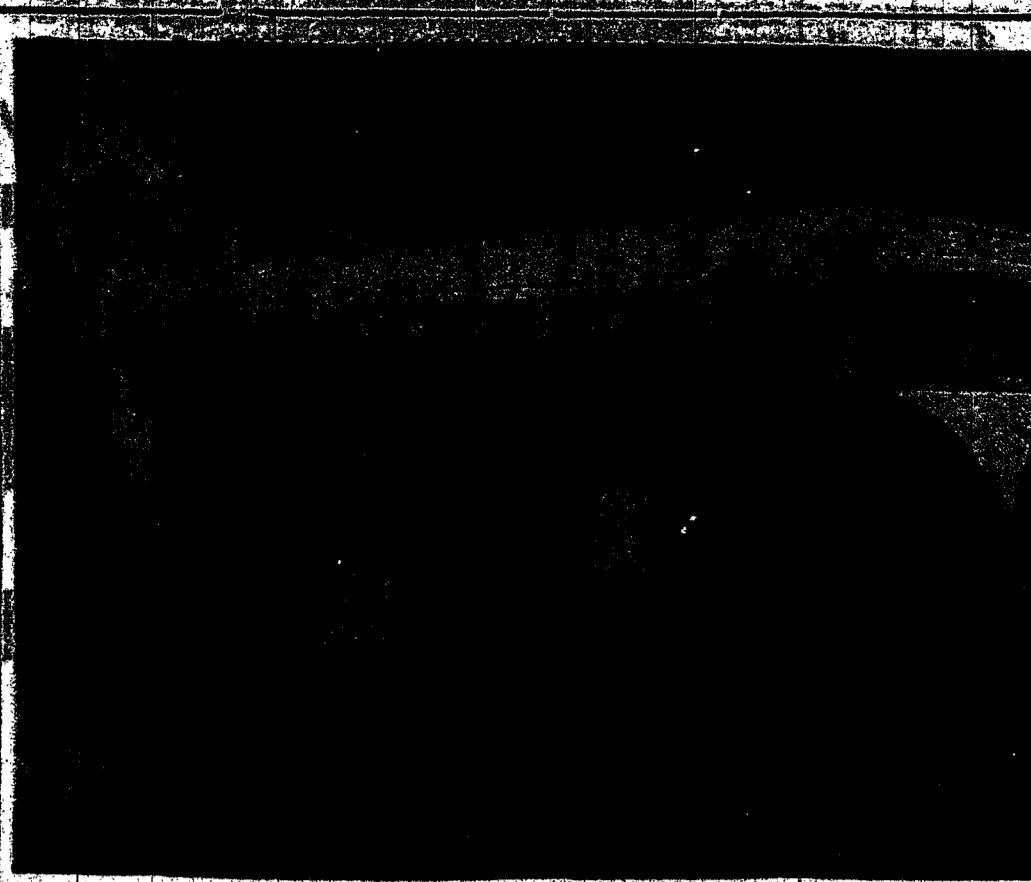

OPS said the new ceilings are at the same general levels previously prevailing under CPCR except for certain areas where prices were abnormally low and out of line when prices were frozen on January 26, 1951.

SUMMER CAMPS
Non-profit camp weekly charges of less than $30.00 per camper have been exempted from price controls by the Office of Price Stabilization.

At the same time OPS provided that selling prices for other children's camps will be the highest rate charged or announced in writing during the 1951 summer camp season, or the rates charged in 1950 increased by 8 percent.

Camps not in operation from April 16 through 17 must apply to OPS for establishment of their ceiling prices.

OPS FIELD CONFERENCES
The Jackson OPS authority in six Mississippi cities monthly in the future to consult with businessmen regarding ceiling price regulations. The OPS specialists will be in Meridian and Grenada on Tuesdays, Laurel and Clarksdale on Thursdays, the first week

CONFRATERNITY MEMBERS board the school bus for their trip to New Orleans for the Sacred Heart Confraternity convention at St. Aloysius high school. S. S. C. delegates were prominent in the discussions.

Nineteen Students
Journey to New Orleans

Nineteen delegates from St. Stanislaus attended the third annual convention of the Confraternity of the Sacred Heart Saturday, February 19 at St. Aloysius High School in New Orleans.

The convention opened with Holy Mass in St. Augustine's Church after which breakfast was served in the St. Aloysius cafeteria by the school Mothers' Club. A general session was held in the gym after breakfast where the officers of the convention were presented.

President Clint Schlottman of St. Aloysius of Vicksburg, Miss., welcomed the delegates and explained the purpose of this annual convention. Brother Armand, mediator of the St. Aloysius Confraternity, presented Brother Andre, a member of the Provincial Council, who welcomed the delegates and expressed Brother Andre's regrets that he was unable to attend. Vice-president Frank Guerin of Catholic High of Baton Rouge, La., told the delegates of the importance of the confraternity to the student body. The secretary, Robert McDonald of McGill Institute of Mobile, Ala., gave a thoughtful talk regarding the purpose of the Confraternity in training Catholic youth to be leaders in the religious life of their parish. Robert explained that a young man should actively participate in parish organizations when he graduates from school and not let his confraternity training in leadership be forgotten.

Treasurer Louis Levy of St. Aloysius of New Orleans explained the workshop method in which the convention was to be conducted.

The next sessions were divided into three meetings with members of each school being present at every meeting in order that they might gather information to be passed on to their respective confraternities.

The meetings were adjourned at 2:40 and the boys proceeded to St. Augustine's Church for Benediction. At 7:30 in the evening a banquet was held at Watkins' restaurant. At the close of the banquet the selection of officers for the next convention was announced. Those chosen were: Jack Courtney of McGill, president, Paul Jackson of Menard Memorial of Alexandria, La., vice-president, Louis Lucas of St. Stanislaus, secretary and Rene Bonnee of St. Aloysius of New Orleans, treasurer.

March of Dimes
Leader Expresses
Thanks To Helpers

Jackson, Miss., February 19—With the state total still incomplete, the 1952 March of Dimes Campaign is already assured of reaching, and, possibly surpassing the $450,000 mark, according to a statement today by Dr. Felix J. Underwood, March of Dimes State chairman.

"We've already far exceeded any previous year's campaign record, thanks to you Mississippians," response of you Mississippians, Dr. Underwood said, adding that $314,000 was raised in the 1951 March of Dimes Drive.

"Our hopes have been substantiated and the continued fight against polio in Mississippi is now assured," the long-time State Chairman said. "This means," he continued, "that those who are still fighting the cruel after-effects of poliomyelitis, that those who today lie suffering in our hospitals, that those who will be stricken in the coming months, will be cared for in the best possible manner. And, most important, there will be funds to help push forward the search for the final answer to polio."

"I want to express my own deep gratitude," he said, "to every citizen, and the number runs into the thousands, who gave generously of his energies, his time and his money." To C. J. Nicholls of Biloxi, who served as District Chairman, and to Mrs. Theo Tudy of Bay St. Louis, who served as Campaign Director for Hancock County, Dr. Underwood said, "You and your co-workers have given concrete expression to the highest humanitarian motives and to the noblest American sentiments in giving of yourself that others may live and walk again. We can now carry on the fight for another year and I know you are grateful with me for this opportunity of service."

To the press and radio, Dr. Underwood said that he felt a large share of the success of the campaign rested with the tremendous support they had given. In a personal letter to Udell L. Favre, Editor of the Sea Coast Echo, Dr. Underwood said "thank you for a job spectacularly well done."

M. E. C. Outlines 10 Point Program

A ten-point program of work, approved by the board of directors recently, will be carried forward by the Mississippi Economic Council during its fourth year, beginning May 1.

Frank E. Everett, Jr., of Vicksburg, out-going president of the Council, said the program is of "vital interest to the general public, and one which affects the general welfare of the state."

Briefly, the 10 points are:

1. Education—Continue efforts to provide adequate school facilities and opportunities, on a segregated basis. Work for efficiency in administration; develop facts on 16th section school lands; promote Americanism study of American history, and understanding of free enterprise system.
2. Taxation—Work for economy and efficiency in the collection and disbursement of tax funds at local, county, state and federal levels; seek to discover and correct tax inequities.
3. Governmental Reorganization—Continue study of county governmental administration and county revenues and expenditures; utilize information in study.
4. Labor-Management Relations—Work for wholesome relations between labor and management, through constructive legislation and education.
5. Agriculture and Conservation—Support constructive work of existing agencies in fields; continue to award certificates to youth in counties for outstanding work in wildlife conservation.
6. State Legislation—Acquaint public with Council-approved legislation; keep Council membership and legislature informed on Council studies; and coordinate efforts of business and professional leadership in support of desirable legislation.
7. Social Security—Continue study of youth court act; keep members and public informed on social welfare trends.
8. Junior Chamber of Commerce—Continue present program of Council support by providing part-time executive secretary and a clerical assistant to state organization.
9. National Affairs—Sponsor statewide national affairs forum in cooperation with state's congressional delegation and other public officials; ascertain and pass on to members of congress actions of Council.
10. Research—Maintain a competent staff in research to furnish facts on all sides by Council committees and the membership, and public.

In addition to the ten-point program, Mr. Everett said the Council will continue work on several projects partially complete, including the support of enabling legislation for council-manager government for municipalities, and passage of a state-wide adult probation law.

LETTERS

Last month in my article I advised about the excessive levy of 1 1/4 mills in the Road and Bridge Fund. Many people did not understand it thoroughly; so, I will go into further detail.

For several years in Beat 5, of every dollar the county collected, you really only owed 75c. For example, if your taxes were $20 (Beat 5 County Tax) you paid about $5.00 too much. According to the state law you have been paying more taxes than you owe.

I paid my taxes under protest, and have it so written on the face of my tax receipt. You will hear more of this at a later date. I understand that many people were discouraged and misinformed about paying their taxes under protest. All those who do pay their taxes under protest will be in a position to get it back when the state auditor is called on to make a refund.

At the meeting Wednesday, February 6, the Board accepted all bids on materials—high, low and medium. This is not my idea of running your county business correctly; so I voted "NO." The law says the lowest and best bid should be accepted by the Board. The other members claim that an emergency exists, which I do not think is so, because metal or concrete culverts, auto tires and accessories, grader blades, and just about everything the county needs, can be purchased without any trouble—even WOOD-PRESERVATIVE.

The majority of the people in Beat 5 elected me to represent them as Supervisor. It has always been a custom for each Supervisor to hire the men to work in his district. I have already hired one foreman and three laborers to work on the seawall in my district. At Wednesday's meeting the other members of the Board informed me that I had to make room for another foreman at about $1800 per year. I believe it is a waste of the taxpayer's money to make jobs to pay off political obligations.

I am anxious to raise the wages of the laborers in the county to 75c per hour, but have been voted down by the majority of the Board, which agreed that 40c per hour is enough. I made a motion for 75c per hour, but receiving no second, the motion was lost. Each month I intend to make the motion until the laborers receive a fair ad just wage. I'm sure the Supervisors would be the first to holler if they received only $3.20 per day.

I have been informed that the Board would like to make a revision of the tax set-up in the county, such as lowering the millage and raising the assessment. I would like the Board to discuss this matter across the table, but so far cannot get any concrete picture of the plans. I strongly urge the public to come forth and have an understanding with all members of the Board of just what they plan to do. Remember, "It's too late to close the barn door after the horse is out."

POLIO FUND TOTALS $882 WITH CAMPAIGN CLOSING NEXT WEEK

E. A. Lang, chairman of the local March of Dimes polio fund drive says: "At our last count we had $882 in the polio campaign fund. This amount," continued Mr. Lang, "is $231 in excess of the amount collected last year."

The goal for this year is $1000, and the time for making contributions is growing to an end. Mr. Lang expressed hopes that those who plan to contribute, and have not yet done so, will mail their checks promptly. Just another $118 is all that is needed to make the goal. Polio reached a new high in Mississippi last year and contributions to the fund are urgently needed.

Mr. Lang says: "We wish to express our appreciation to all who have responded so generously, and special thanks to Miss Naomi Saucier and the faculty of the Public Elementary School for their generous contribution of $108 made possible through the Children's Carnival Ball." Mr. Lang says the cooperation on the part of the school children was heart-warming.

Plans are being made to use the Nelson tests in the Elementary Schools in the near future.

The faculty and students of the Pass Christian Elementary School wish to thank the townspeople for their patronage which made it possible for them to reach the $100 goal for the polio fund.

DR. AND MRS. CLARK NOW LIVING IN MACON

On Friday morning, February 22, Dr. and Mrs. Willis Gaylord Clark said their final adieu to Pass Christian and its people and motored to Macon, Mississippi, where they will make their home with Mrs. Wyatt M. Jones Sr., who is a sister to Mrs. Clark.

Dr. Clark served as Rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian for a period of five years.

Dr. Clark was an active member of the Pass Christian Rotary Club and edited the club's news bulletin.

Mrs. Clark has beautified the grounds of the rectory. Last year early morning risers frequently saw her at her task of personally sodding the lawn with St. Augustine grass. She has carefully tended the shrubs and flowers at the rectory and added new camellias. Live Oak Cemetery will miss the Clarks. Mrs. Clark frequently placed flowers upon the graves of children of whose families no longer live in this area. Plants were watched, and visitors were frequently guided to graves of historical interest by both Dr. and Mrs. Clark.

Yes, Pass Christian will miss the Clarks. They have gone to a much needed rest, but a part of Dr. and Mrs. Clark will always belong to the Gulf Coast. For they have opened our eyes to the beauty that is our heritage.

They have instilled a deeper love in our hearts for the beautiful little century old church, and their lives have shown us the dignity and beauty and worth of striving to live the Golden Rule.

J. Woodruff, two new guild members, Messames White and Bunch of Pineville and Mrs. Agnes Sprinkle.

Legislative Views
By WALTER JAMES PHILLIPS

With the advent of the sixth week of the Legislature more and more bills began coming out of the committees, and were being passed on the floor of the house.

Foremost among those being passed before the house was the Livestock, Poultry and Egg Production Act which was advocated by Governor White. As reported, this Act passed the Senate by an overwhelming vote. There was some opposition in the House to this measure, and numerous amendments were offered; however, most of these amendments were rejected by the House. The only amendment which was offered and passed was the reduction of the amount of the license to any individual from the sum of $20,000.00 to $15,000.00. This amendment was accepted, and the whole Act passed the House with only 25 dissenting votes.

Last week your representative introduced a bill which would exempt, up to the sum of $500.00, one motor vehicle for each family. It had been hoped that automobiles could have been exempted from personnel ad valorem tax; however, it was found that a great deal of income of the smaller counties is derived from the direct taxing of automobiles. It was further found that the average assessed value of each automobile was $373.00. This average was brought down by the inclusion of so many old automobiles that were assessed at the lowest rate of $30.00. It was believed that the $500.00 figure would approximately be one-half to three-fourths of the average valuation of automobiles, when you do not consider the vast number of automobiles that are assessed at the small amount of $30.00 each.

There has also been introduced in the House a bill which would insure collection of the personal ad valorem tax on automobiles. This bill was introduced by Mr. Thigpen of Bolivar County. It was believed by him, and by many members of the House, that so many automobiles are escaping taxation, that if all the taxes on automobiles could be collected, then it would be quite possible to reduce the ad valorem taxes on automobiles even more.

Various hearings have been had this week concerning the basic foundation program for education in Mississippi. Most of the Legislators agree that something must be done for education in Mississippi. However, much controversy has arisen over the cost of such a program. There has been some hesitancy on the part of many to engage such an extensive program while the status of education in Mississippi remains uncertain, and it is believed that we should wait until the Supreme Court has made its position clearer relative to the segregation issue. However, it is your representative's views that a careful search should be made in investigating a program which would put education in Mississippi on a better basis. This is especially so relative to teachers' salaries. It is the considered opinion of most legislators that these salaries should be raised.

Mrs. M. W. Briggs was on the sick list this week.

HOW TO AVOID COLDS, NAGGING ACHES AND PAINS THIS WINTER

New Formula Quickly Builds Resistance

Against Ills Striking In Cold Weather

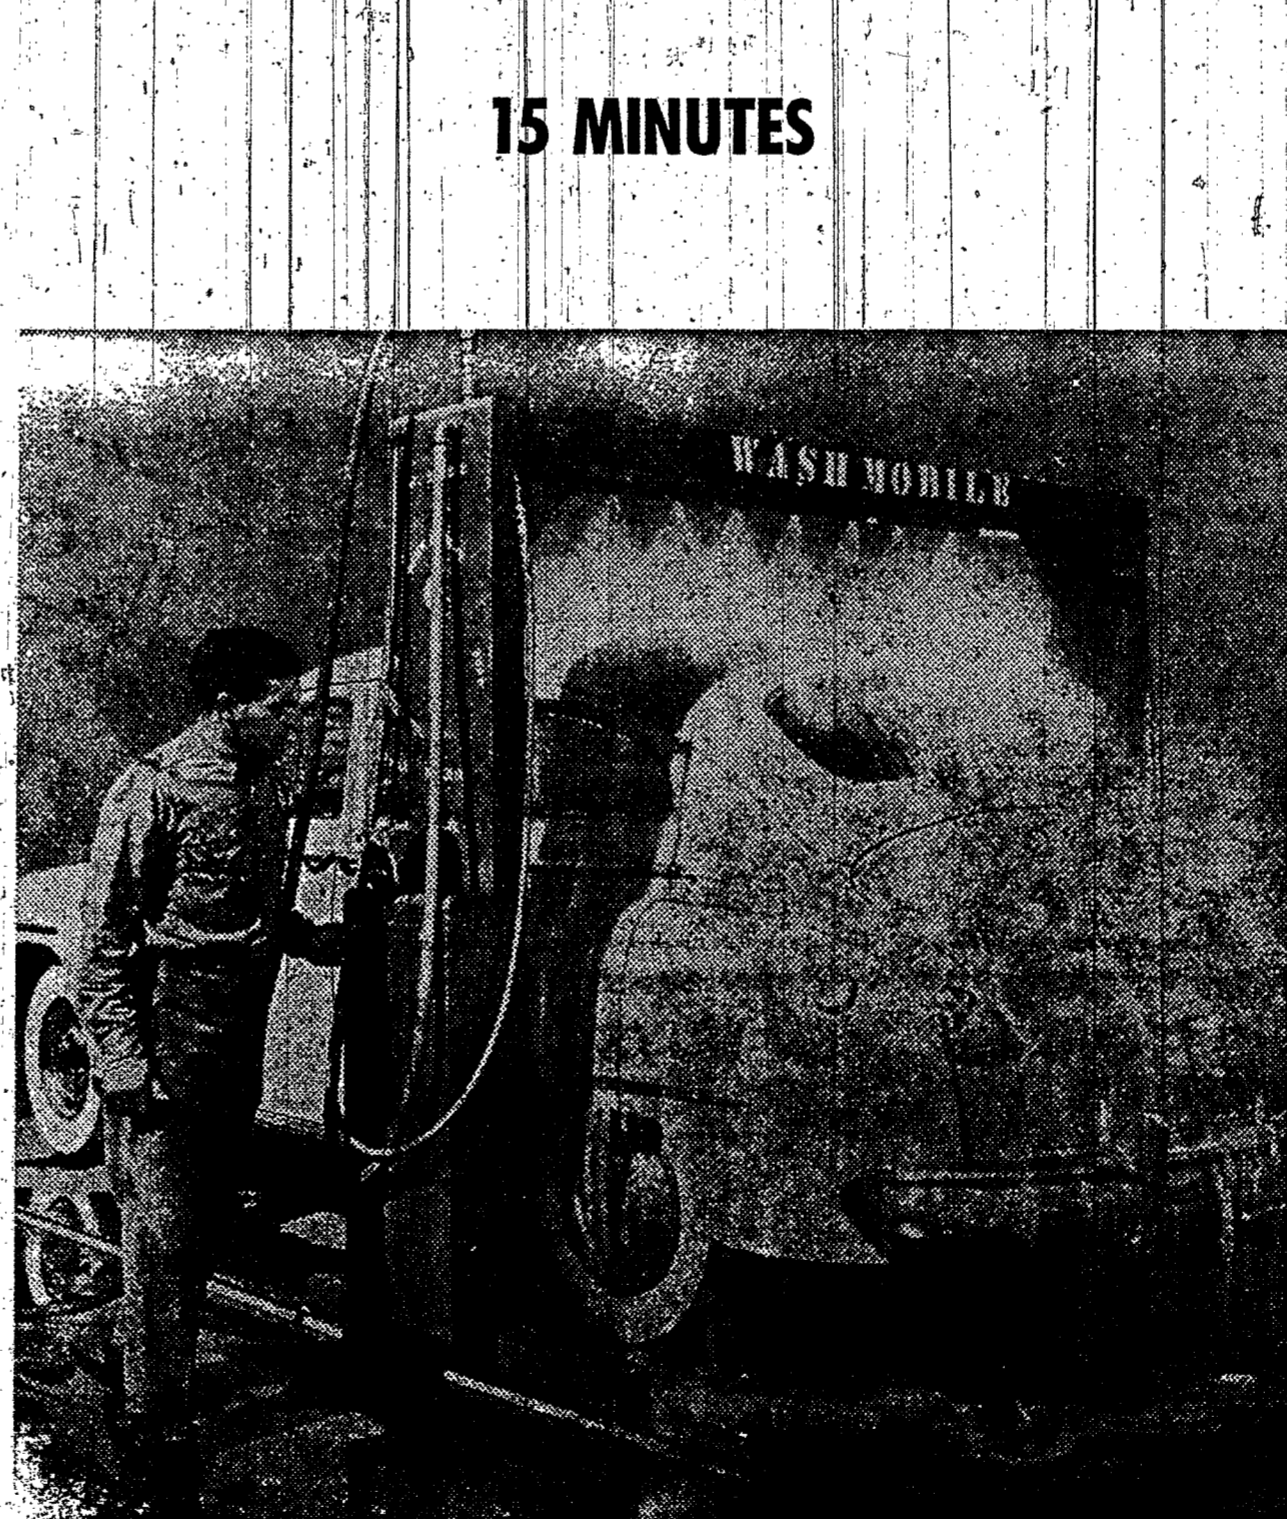

You can say "Goodbye" to colds, nagging aches and pains and other distress this winter, when you are fortified with plenty of Iron, B-1, B-2, B-6 and Niacin. Recommended by many doctors, these ingredients are contained in New HI-VITA Tonic, the medically proven formula everyone in Bay St. Louis is talking about.

A well-known Mississippi Minister has related his happy experience with New HI-VITA Tonic. He said that aches and pains in his arms and shoulders and a cramping in the lower part of his back made him feel so bad that his work among his congregation came to be a heavy burden. He said that he would frequently have to get up in the night and take walks about his yard to be able to endure his terrible suffering. He said he tried about everything "under the Sun" before he finally found the relief he had long sought in HI-VITA, which gave him relief and new strength. Today this kind minister enjoys life again. He works and sleeps in peace. His system is strengthened and soothed. He is grateful to HI-VITA for what it did for him.

Don't go on suffering! Start building your body up with vigor, strength and energy by taking new HI-VITA now - today! Sold by

Plan Production Program For Needs

By HOWARD SIMMONS

SOUND FARMING

To meet 1952 outlook study the demand situation and market outlook. Plan your production program to meet both civilian and defense needs.

Make more profit by striving for higher crop and livestock yields and get lower cost production per pound or bushel. Be prepared. Figure your fertilizer and insecticide requirements now and lay in your minimum needs as soon as possible. Take good care of your farm machinery and order needed repair parts early. Make early arrangements for seasonal and regular labor.

Cut expenses by producing as much of your family food needs as possible and practical. Grow plenty of home grown foods, such as permanent pastures, winter grazing, temporary summer grazing, hay and silage.

Maintain sound financial condition by using credit wisely and keeping long term indebtedness on a secure footing.

PASTURE POINTERS

Good grazing in 1952. Management will be extremely important. Mowing will be the number one management job. Mowing not only makes the pasture look better, it actually makes it better.

February is the best month to repair fences and build any new fences needed for cross fences so that grazing can be alternated.

The last week in February or the first week in March is the best time to nitrate oats and other cereals for grain.

Dallis and lespedeza should be planted by the first week in March. Cover seed one fourth inch and topdress.

Where blood is a problem, it will pay to nitrate the grass growing in the clover so that it will be better able to compete with clover and furnish a balance.

Do's and don'ts. Do keep hogs from rooting pastures. Don't graze boggy pastures. Either cut your herd down to fit your pasture or add enough pasture to give each cow two acres. Make a business out of farming.

COTTON INSECT CONTROL.

Thieves. Boll weevils, strip bollworms and other cotton insects are actually thieves. If not controlled, they will destroy a considerable portion of the cotton planted in Mississippi.

Control them this year with either dust or spray insecticide. Dust formulations and liquid sprays of aldrin, dieldrin, gamma benzene hexachloride, heptachlor and toxaphene, as well as combinations of these with DDT will be available this year.

In a successful spray program it is essential that good emulsifiable concentrates be used. The emulsion must be stable. After mixing with water, the oil must not separate from the water.

A good emulsion should not cream at the top or settle to the bottom for at least 20 to 30 minutes after mixing. The emulsion must be free from trash or foreign matter.

Do not buy an emulsifiable concentrate unless the pounds of technical insecticide to the gallon are stated on the label.

Regardless of the material used, the success or failure of controls

Your Health
The
State Health Officer
Says

Pick up almost any newspaper on almost any day and one type of news is inevitably present: "someone has died with a heart attack."

These deaths do not however, occur as frequently as they appear to. The fact that they are very sudden and dramatic and that they are often of prominent businessmen makes them newsworthy. They are, therefore, given considerable publicity. Much more frequent but much less publicized are those instances when a person has a so-called "heart attack" and recovers. Realization of this fact should calm some of the fears associated with heart disorders.

But let us examine this term "heart attack" and decide just what it means. The term is a catch-all phrase used by the layman but avoided by the physician. In most cases a physician finds that the heart attack is what he calls a coronary thrombosis. This means that a blood clot has formed in one of the arteries which carry blood throughout the heart itself.

When an artery suddenly becomes closed by a blood clot, the blood supply to a portion of the heart is cut off. Sometimes this is an immediately fatal blow—or at least a very serious one.

In other cases, however, the artery which becomes blocked is a minor one, or has possibly been diseased for some time. In the latter case, neighboring arteries have already enlarged and multiplied to feed the part of the heart formerly fed by the artery which has been partially useless and in which the clot finally formed. This is called collateral circulation and it often enables a person who has had a coronary thrombosis to live out his normal lifespan.

The patient who has any heart disorder needs immediate care from his private physician and should by all means follow his physician's instructions. Part of the treatment is usually a period of rest, during which time collateral circulation is developed and the heart muscle heals. The patient may also be advised by his physician to restrict his activities on returning to his normal life.

Most heart disease does not result in sudden and dramatic death. Neither are "heart attacks" always fatal.

depends on proper application and timing.

Working Together

Gulf is proud to share a common interest with all the people of Mississippi in its lease of some 800,000 coastal acres from the Mississippi Mineral Lease Commission last August. A seismic survey is now under way and the state's first off-shore test well is soon to be drilled.

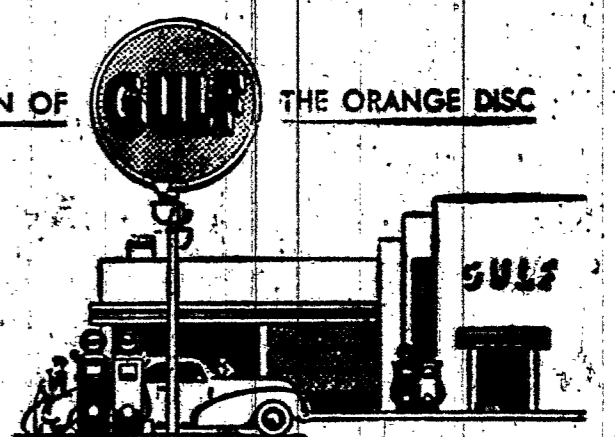

Gulf also shares production revenue with over 5000 Mississippi men and women who regularly receive Gulf's royalty and rental checks. These totaled over $2,700,000 in 1951. In addition, Gulf's working team includes some 350 people in our production and pipe-line departments and almost 2500 in our sales activities, who received over $4,667,000 in royalties and commissions last year.

Gulf bought over $1-million of materials and supplies from Mississippi business firms in connection with its production and exploration work in 43 of the state's 82 counties, and paid over $1,300,000.00 in taxes to local and state government. This makes Gulf a very vital co-worker of Mississippi businessmen and of every Mississippi taxpayer.

Thus, Gulf is working together with every citizen of Mississippi. And, Gulf is proud to team up with all those who realize that the continued sound development of the state's oil and gas resources will bring opportunities for a better, more prosperous life to all the people of Mississippi.

INFORMAL RECESS

During the past week the House has been in what was in effect an informal recess. This came about through an agreement that no legislation would be considered during the week in order that the Republicans might be free to attend Lincoln Day celebrations in their home districts. While the Republican Party has made political capital of the name of Lincoln, much as the Democrats have used the name of Jefferson and Jackson, no group can rightfully claim these illustrious figures as solely its own. Their names are not trademarks for the exclusive use of anyone. Rather, all are a part of our common heritage. Even Mississippi, in the deepest South, has its Lincoln County, a fact that seems to surprise some of our Northern friends.

MISSISSIPPI AND FOREIGN TRADE

The State Department has forwarded to me a pamphlet with the above title. It is one of a series of publications setting out the importance to each state of the country's trade abroad. It is obviously designed to "sell" the trade agreements policy of the State Department and the Administration state by state. This thesis is set out in the introduction in the following terms:

"Foreign countries cannot buy our exports without American dollars. In the final analysis, the only way in which they can earn dollars is by selling goods and services to the United States. For all practical purposes, every dollar spent on imports returns to the United States in payment for exports produced by American workers."

While admitting that exact figures covering exports from Mississippi are not available, the pamphlet sets out the value of products manufactured and grown in Mississippi and the value of the total United States exports of these products and draws the conclusion that "exports play an important part in the industrial prosperity of the State and are responsible for the employment of many workers in high-wage industries" and that "Mississippi is the second largest producer of cotton, one of the most important of our export commodities."

We have no quarrel with the general idea behind the reciprocal trade agreements program. We do disagree, however, with the policy of the State Department and of the Administration of rigidly insisting on the status-quo whenever proposals to give relief in specific and isolated instances of hardship are made. If we actually had free trade, that would be one thing, but when many items are protected by high price walls, the denial of a similar protection to other products, which were either not grown in this country or for other reasons needed no protection when the Tariff Act was passed in 1890, is a questionable practice. I have in mind particularly our efforts over the past several years to secure some protection for the infant and, from a defense angle highly important domestic tung industry against imports from China. It is true that these imports are cut off temporarily because of the Korean War, but in the years just after the war the domestic price of tung oil was forced down and down until it was below the government's support price by these imports of coolie-produced Chinese oil. Even when the Communists took over China and when these imports from there through Hong Kong were bolstering the economy of Red China, the State Department opposed all efforts to relieve the situation by positive action on our part. Later events (the out-break of the Korean War) of themselves forced the care of the situation. But this is only temporary. When a truce is signed, there is every reason to expect that the domestic tung industry will be at the mercy of Communist China unless something is done to protect our tung farmers. But still the State Department opposes legislation we introduced last year to impose quotas on imports of tung oil, objecting on the ground that this would invite retaliatory restrictions on our exports.

The only remedy is to secure the passage of legislation in spite of the objection of the State Department.

HOME AGENTS' NOTES

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Miss Jennie Williams, of the N. Cross W. Ranch, Wyoming, took office as president of the National Home Demonstration Council on January 1. She will serve for three years.

In a message to home demonstration club women, Miss Williams said:

"What we do and think right now is important because the balance is precarious and so just a little weight one way or the other may decide the fate of the human race for hundreds of years to come. We are particularly anxious that the National Home Demonstration Council do its bit just now."

"We rural women in America are privileged above all rural women in the world today in fact, above all women who ever lived. One of our special privileges has been the education we have received through our USDA Extension Service. It has brought us closer together, giving us a common background, by making it possible for us to meet together and exchange ideas and cement friendships."

"This has also worked in the other direction by broadening our horizons. It has helped to make the whole of America a big family neighborhood in which we can help each other."

"We would like to see a livelier interest in world affairs and more thought on international affairs. This should help substantially our contribution to rural betterment around the world."

SPRING BONNET

A few warm, sunny days and every woman begins to want a new spring bonnet.

Since hats this season come in a variety of styles, look over the ones you have on hand and see if a little redecorating you can do yourself won't give you or more the new spring-hat look you need.

In making your old hats look like new, first study the style to get ideas. Look in magazines, store windows, movies or anywhere hats are pictured, displayed or worn to get ideas. Then study yourself. Next study the possibilities of the hat, as to color and shape possibilities. Now think how you can put the hat and you into an attractive, pleasing picture.

The fourth step is to work on the hat. Remove the trim and lining. Clean the hat (it should have been cleaned at the end of the season before storing). Carbon tetrachloride is a good cleaner, but the container should be kept covered while not in use. Begin at the center of the crown and sponge round. Sponge felts counter-clockwise. Dip into cleaning solution and cover with bolted meal. Sandpaper will remove spots (rub counter clockwise).

Use cloth near the color of the felt for sponging to prevent rubbing fibers into felt. That is, on dark hats use dark cloth; on light ones, use light cloth.

To block the hat, pour one cup of warm water into the crown. Turn hat around so all of inside crown is moistened. Pour water out.

Put onto block, being sure center front of hat and block are together.

Pin, tie around bottom of crown or use rubber band.

To block brims, place dry cloth next to hat with wet cloth on top and press.

When the hat is thoroughly dry, remove from block. If the lines from the rubber band show, seam before removing from block and let dry.

To give veils body, pin to ironing board between waxed paper and press with warm iron. Veils may be steamed on wrong side by passing over steam from the tea kettle.

To trim hat, sit before your mirror and lightly place the trim. Tack on lightly with double thread. Sew band and lining at same time.

Recalled Veterans Urged To Resume GI Studies

Former GI Bill veteran-trainees who returned to active military duty were reminded today by Bob De Kay of the State Veterans Affairs Commission that they have little time to lose, in case they want to resume their GI studies after discharge.

Under VA regulations, they must resume their training within a reasonable period after their release from active duty. That "reasonable period" De Kay said, will be based on the circumstances of each veteran's case, and will depend on the kind of training he is taking and a number of other factors.

These regulations apply to veterans affected by the July 25, 1951, cut-off date for entering training, who had previously been in training under the GI Bill, but who were unable to be enrolled at that time because of re-entrance into military service.

Veterans were advised to make their training plans early, rather than wait for the last minute. This way, De Kay said, they may avoid the disappointment of missing out altogether.

De Kay also reminded veterans of three requirements that must be met in order to take post-cut-off date training after military service: (1) conduct and progress of their previous GI Bill courses must have been satisfactory; (2) the amount of training they may get after discharge will
